A Bit More About Us

Steelwork is our passion, and our vision is to be market leaders, not followers.

We have been building heavy-duty commercial trailers and truck & van bodies since 2008.

Our products are designed and developed in-house. They are comparable to the best South Africa has to offer, and can also compete with international offerings. We have managed the building of trailers and truck bodies in China, Germany, and Australia.

Every product we make is subjected to stringent quality control systems at each stage of the manufacturing and assembly process.

Our pricing is highly competitive, and our clients receive excellent after-sales service and support.

Management

Ockert Britz – CEO

Ockert has worked in the steel fabrication and manufacturing sector since 1996. He also began importing and selling commercial trailers several years ago.

This evolved into building trailers and truck bodies locally, and from there, he branched out into manufacturing materials handling equipment, drawing on his experience in steel fabrication.
